

Malheur National Wildlife Refuge Wilderness

A marsh is clumps, hummocks and floating masses of vegetation scattered about in a basin of water. Malheur Lake is one of the largest fresh water marshes in the country.