

BIRDS OF THE SABINE NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

The Sabine National Wildlife Refuge, containing over 142,000 acres, is in Cameron Parish in extreme southwestern Louisiana. Established in 1937 and administered by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in the Department of the Interior, this area is one of the primary wintering refuges for waterfowl in the Mississippi Flyway.

Two large, brackish lakes are the dominant topographic features of the area. Sabine Lake forms the western boundary, while Calcasieu Lake bisects the east portion of the refuge. The southern boundary lies parallel to and about 5 miles from the Gulf. Three fresh-water impoundments, covering approximately 33,000 acres, attract large numbers of waterfowl and marshbirds. A surprisingly wide range of habitats is provided by numerous ridges, bayous, man-made canals and levees, ponds, lakes, and wooded islands that break up the extensive marsh areas.

Abundant throughout the winter, waterfowl reach their peak numbers usually during December and January. Huge flocks of Blue and Snow Geese are commonly seen feeding on marshes adjacent to State Highway 27, the only road through the refuge. Canada and White-fronted Geese are uncommon and are generally on the less accessible areas. The most abundant ducks are Mallards, Pintails, Gadwalls, Green-winged Teal and American Widgeon. Many species other than waterfowl are present during the winter months. In past years, the Christmas Bird Count on and adjacent to Sabine Refuge has ranked high in the nation, usually with more than 150 species recorded.

Transient shorebirds are abundant along the lake shores and in shallow ponds during April, May and September. Cold fronts during March, April, and May sometimes produce spectacular waves of migrant warblers and other songbirds that are rarely seen otherwise. Nesting birds include many species of herons and egrets, Olivaceous Cormorants, Anhingas, Roseate Spoonbills, Common and Purple Gallinules, Mottled Ducks, Clapper Rails and Black-necked Stilts.

The following bird list contains 242 species. Another 22 species of rare or accidental occurrence are listed on the last page, as are another 44 species which have been found in the immediate vicinity of the refuge. Those marked with an * may remain in reduced numbers in the winter. Those marked with a #, normally winter or transient visitors, may remain during the summer in variable numbers. This list, using species names, is in accordance with the Fifth (1957) A.O.U. Check-list. The status and abundance symbols are defined as follows:

The following 22 species are of accidental occurrence and in most instances have been seen on the refuge only one or two times. No recent records exist for the Sandhill Crane, formerly a local permanent resident.

Eared Grebe Blue-faced Booby Cinnamon Teal Oldsquaw White-winged Scoter Rough-legged Hawk Golden Eagle Caracara Sandhill Crane Black Rail Sooty Tern Noddy Tern White-Winged Dove Ground Dove Sprague's Pipit Swainson's Warbler Black-throated Gray Warbler Bobolink Yellow-headed Blackbird Bullock's Oriole Pine Siskin Chipping Sparrow

These additional 44 species have been recorded in the immediate vicinity, but not on the refuge. The primary sources for this list include the annual Christmas Bird Count, which covers portions of the Cameron and Hackberry areas as well as part of the refuge, and frequent field trips to the Cameron and Johnson Bayou areas by members of the Louisiana Ornithological Society.
